

Thought Piece

There are several similar phrases like money can't buy you happiness. Back around 1750, the following phrase was said:

Money can buy material things, but real happiness must be earned

What do you think? Do you think money can buy happiness? Why or why not?

