Risky Behaviors

Financial loss may occur if an individual participates in risky situations, such as those listed below. Financial loss due to careless behavior could lead to a medical cost, damage to property, or loss of revenue because of missing work.

Think about what a possible financial cost may result from each situation. Engage in a whole class discussion of how risky behaviors can sometimes lead to financial loss. In the last column, list what type of insurance would help cover the costs. In some cases, there may not be any insurance that helps.

| Situation | Possible Financial Loss/Cost | What type of insurance applies? |
|---|-------------------------------------|--|
| First time snowboarding. Decided to try the advanced slope. | | |
| Put my $20 bill next to me on the park bench. | | |
| Taking a selfie some place dangerous. | | |
| Throwing your gaming controller through a TV. | | |
| Standing up on a roller coaster ride. | | |
| Using your parents credit card without permission. | | |
| Playing baseball inside of your house. | | |
| Tried a new skateboard stunt riding a railing. | | |
